

Brussels, 31st May 2023

Dear Fellows,
Dear Doctors,
Dear Professors,
Dear Colleagues,

We cordially invite you to attend the upcoming 30th class of “Online Class Academy Let’s Talk about Kidney stones” !

We are delighted to welcome Dr Christelle Fosso from Department of Nephrology and Prof Andrew Carlin from Obstetric Department, founders of Kidney And Pregnancy Clinic at Centre Hospitalier Universitaire de Bruxelles, Hôpital Brugmann Brussels, Belgium.

During this class we will host one of the expert in kidney stones and great speaker Professor John Sayer.

He is a professor of Renal Medicine at Newcastle University and Consultant Nephrologist at the Freeman Hospital’s Renal Services Centre. He has a particular interest in inherited kidney diseases and renal stone disease. Professor Sayer’s clinical interests include a wide range of disorders including cystic kidney disease, Fabry disease, Alport syndrome, tubulopathies and kidney stone disorders. He runs a regional renal genetics clinic and a family renal genetics clinic.

Within the Translational and Clinical Research Institute at Newcastle University, Professor Sayer’s laboratory studies focus on renal genetics, cystic kidney disease, renal ciliopathies and renal stone formation. His work utilises physiological and genetic techniques to investigate these conditions and find new therapies.

All those experts will share with us their experience on the topic “ Kidney Stone Disease and Pregnancy”
